HOW HEALTHCASTS WORKS:

For over 16 years, Healthcasts' mission has been to improve patient outcomes by using the latest technology to connect and educate physicians. Healthcasts' platform is a private site for verified physicians to ask and answer specialty-focused diagnostic questions from peers. Doctors can rate or comment on the provided answers. As more questions are answered, more lives are saved, more information is available to improve the quality of healthcare.

Don't just take our word for it:

“By collaborating with peers, I can pass on my experience and knowledge. This will enhance early diagnosis and treatment, thereby preventing irreversible damage in some cases. I feel this is a privilege and service.”

— DR. GEORGE MATHEW, CARDIOLOGIST

“It is a brief, fun, little quick thing that, if you are interested, you can join in with other members of our profession to get some insight.”

— DR. OWEN PICKUS, ONCOLOGIST

“I think there's a lot of patients — especially in my state and in other rural states — that don't have access to specialists without a long drive. So, having primary doctors have specialists they can ask questions to, at least to get the ball rolling, is a good idea.

— NANCY HAMMOND, NEUROLOGY

“Interesting questions. Something to think about. No set answer for it from a textbook.

— DR. KENNETH LENTZ, CARDIOLOGIST
